Let our firm protect your aircraft and your interests.

- Ownership Determine a business formation strategy in your best interest. Understand the ramifications of FAR Part 91 and/or Part 135.
- Value Maximize the value of your transaction and ensure your interests are protected through diligent, experienced representation.
- Taxes Understand tax strategies relevant to your use of aircraft. Identify the depreciation strategy that is right for you.
- Registration Make certain that your aircraft transaction is properly recorded with regulatory authorities.

With over ten years experience, T R McLemore counsels on these common business aviation issues as well as situations unique to you. Our distinctive approach: minimize unwarranted negotiation, while maintaining regulatory compliance, and above all, protecting your interests.

T R McLemore Law Office provides counsel on purchase, sale, leasing, financing, fractional ownership, business formation, registration, regulatory compliance, like-kind exchange and tax strategies. Clients include high net worth individuals as well as small and large companies, with advice on business, regulatory, insurance, tax and other legal issues related to business aviation.
